HOW TO USE YOUR FROST DATES

Most seeds that start indoors go in 6 to 8 weeks before your last spring frost; most direct-sown and transplanted crops wait until after it. Cool-season crops go earlier. Fill in the months for your own garden.

Ready to Plan Your Whole Season?

These three pages are just the beginning

You are holding three pages from The Complete Garden Planner.

If these helped, the full 30-page planner takes you all the way from first plan to final harvest — and unlike most garden printables, every reference page is sourced from cooperative-extension and USDA guidance, not garden folklore.

WHAT'S IN THE FULL PLANNER

- ☐ USDA zone & frost dates, budget, and seed wishlist Start the season with a real plan.
- ☐ Square-foot spacing & companion planting charts Sourced, not folklore.
- ☐ Crop rotation, succession planting & plant profiles Grow more in the same space.
- ☐ Weekly journal, watering schedule & pest log Stay ahead all season.
- ☐ Seasonal checklists, preserve planner & savings tracker From spring prep to year-in-review.
